

Chapter 8: People Creating a Future: The Global Wave

Chapter 8.D Additional Resources

Art of the Western World

A video instructional series on art history for college and high school classrooms and adult learners; 9 one-hour video programs. 9. In Our Own Time -- would be appropriate for this chapter.

<http://www.learner.org/resources/series1.html?pop=yes&pid=228#>

Bridging World History <http://www.learner.org/resources/series197.html>

A multimedia course for secondary school and college teachers that looks at global patterns through time, seeing history as an integrated whole. Topics are studied in a general chronological order, but each is examined through a thematic lens, showing how people and societies experience both integration and differences. The course consists of 26 units (half-hour video, interactive Web activities, and print materials) that can be explored at either introductory levels or as more advanced study. The course videos feature interviews with leading world history textbook authors and nationally known historians. The Web site includes an archive of over 1000 primary source documents and artifacts, journal articles from the Journal of World History and other publications, and a thematic interactive activity on interrelationships across time and place.

This is a great resource!!

Economics USA: 21st Century Edition <http://www.learner.org/resources/series79.html>

Explore economic history, theory, and practice through case studies and interviews with Nobel-prize winning and major economists. The series covering macro, micro, and international economics features Milton Friedman, Paul Samuelson, John Kenneth Galbraith, Alice Rivlin, and Ben Bernanke, among others. Major economic events, including the 2008 banking crisis and technology's influence on the economy, connect economic theory to the headlines. The full complement of material includes audio interviews and a coordinated Web site. Economics USA: 21st Century Edition is produced by the Educational Film Center. 2012

This looks like a great resource.

Global Economy: Connecting the Roots of a Holistic System <http://global-awareness.org/purchase.html>

By author Dr. Denise R. Ames. The book is a great companion to the Global Wave. The book examines the global economy through three interconnected dimensions: neoliberalism (free market capitalism), economic globalization, and financialization. $19.95

Population 7 Billion

There are now 7 billion people on the planet. Explore National Geographic magazine's Population 7 Billion hub to find out why you shouldn't panic—at least, not yet.

http://education.nationalgeographic.com/education/collections/population-7-billion/?ar\_a=1